N these pages, you will find illustrated Halcolite lighting equipment for every lighting location, and an ample selection from which to choose of each type.

In compiling catalog "N," we have provided authentic lighting designs for all the different types of new residential construction, such as Colonial, Early American, English and Spanish.

We have also been mindful of the ever-increasing number of home owners who find in the present-day exceptional values a splendid opportunity to replace old, inadequate lighting with fresh, modern Halcolites.

We recommend a careful inspection of this book.

Our present prices include no State or Federal sales tax. In the event that a law is enacted to tax products of our manufacture, such charge shall be paid by the buyer to the seller.
